INTRODUCING A NEW KIND OF SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY FOR THE NEXT GENERATION OF STEEL SERVICE CENTERS

Communication has come a long way. What used to take days can be done in an instant today with modern, streamlined technology. At SeverCorr, we're taking the same approach to partnering with steel service centers. We've built the most advanced steel production facility in the industry right here in Lowndes County, Mississippi.

After all, the "new south" has launched more groundbreaking industry than any region in the nation. Our innovative on-line system will offer complete transparency to all aspects of your order, providing you with a level of control unprecedented in the industry. And while our cutting-edge technology will keep you constantly connected with your orders, it's our sophisticated service and quick turnaround times that will truly revolutionize how you partner with steel manufacturers. We think of it as "progressive partnerships," because at SeverCorr, we believe communication isn't the only thing that should change with the times – quality service should, too.
